HAZMAT TRANSPORTATION COMPLIANCE

NEW TO MARKET

Land, air and marine HazMat transporters are all required to comply with the alphabet soup of government agency regulations to do their job. Agencies include EPA (Environmental Protection Agency), IATA (International Air Transportation Association), DOT (Department of Transportation), IMDG (International Maritime Dangerous Goods) and RCRA (Resource Conservation and Recovery Act) to name a few. Included in this list are transporters and warehousing facilities that have received training in compliance in these areas. These are excellent prospects for offers of packaging materials, cleaning and maintenance supplies, environmental and recycling equipment and supplies and educational seminars and publications pertaining to compliance.
