PRINTERS' ENVIRONMENTAL PRODUCTS & SERVICES

NEW TO MARKET

Printers, like any manufacturing enterprise large or small, move material, produce products and waste and use chemicals and other substances. These materials must be disposed of, controlled, or documented to comply with environmental laws and regulations. These printers have purchased products and services that meet these material handling and environmental needs. They are avid responders to direct marketing offers of information products, employee safety programs and environmental assistance. Selects include employee size.
